Instructions for work given

QUIZLET – This link will take you to the GCSE 2020 class. Here you will find revision resources for the core content (section A) of the exam and the designing principle section. There are also resources for the specialism sections, remember though, you only need to focus on ONE area of these, you do not need to revise all of them!

I would recommend you use the 'match' function to begin with, test yourself and work out which elements you are confident with, revise those using the 'flashcards' that you are unsure about.

GCSE BITESIZE – this website has been recently updated and is fantastic! Each of the sections have been covered and there are some excellent videos. There is a 'test' function at the top, and as with quizlet, I would recommend you take the test, and then focus upon the areas you are unsure about. Please remember you only need to cover ONE of the specialist technical principles areas.

Seneca – This link will give you direct access into the Seneca resources for AQA GCSE Design Technology. Should we be absent for school for a prolonged period of time, there will be assignments uploaded into the class for you to complete.

GCSE past & mock papers – There will be a range of these available for you to access on Moodle along with their mark schemes.

GCSE COURSEWORK (year 11 only)

Your coursework is now at a critical phase, do not forget this is worth 50% of your overall grade. You should use the guidance material that has been provided to complete sections as far as possible. This guidance material has been uploaded onto moodle for you to access. You can email updates to your coursework to your subject teacher at any time prior to your deadline date.
